...AS WE BEGIN

When entering this high school we are given a year to begin. How we do so is our choice. Most students choose the four year plan, some choose the five, and some even choose the six. But one thing we all hold no matter what our plans are our dreams. We use our dreams as a guide to take us through this experience. They shape our thoughts and mold our futures. Some dreams can be achieved in short order. Some take hard work and soul searching. Some of us lose grasp of our dreams and begin to drift. Many regain grasp of the dreams they had or acquire new ones. Those who do not dream lose sight of their goals.

As we begin another school year with our dreams in hand, we celebrate those who travel beside us and mourn those who drift away from their dreams and their goals. Kendall DeBass

No More Teachers...

Dirty Looks!

What is a high school student's favorite time of the year? Summer, of course! After ten months of grueling homework assignments, killer tests, and demanding teachers, who wouldn't want a vacation? Some popular hotspots were Florida, Martha's Vineyard, and lets not forget the beach! Swimming, shopping, and being with friends; what could be better?

Many of us were able to earn extra money through summer jobs. Some favorite places to work are Blockbuster Video, McDonald's, D'Angelo's, Shaw's and Osco Drug. When not working most of us enjoyed watching movies, going to parties, and hanging out with our friends. Many of us celebrated the Fourth of July by watching the spectacular display of fireworks at Stoughton High School.

We all had one goal in mind, this being our last summer of high school-to Have Fun! Although we have a whole year ahead of us, it was time to cherish and renew friendships. It was the best summer we could have had. Soon summer would be over and school would be starting soon. Enjoy the year.- Beth Goldman

Q: What do you dream of on a hot summer day?

A: On a hot summer day I dream of going away on vacation. I dream of being on a tropical island and swimming in the water to cool off. I dream of not having to do anything all day except laying on the beach and swimming.-Livia Ramos

Just Another Day...

The class of 1998 is realizing how hard it is to juggle school work, and part-time jobs, especially with our new drop-a-block school schedule. We are awake by 6:30 a.m., in school by 7:30 a.m., where we will stay until 2:30 p.m. Whether it's at 3 or 4 o'clock, students go to their jobs, where they remain until 9 or 10 at night. That's not even including time spent on homework, which by teachers' standards should be 2-3 hours per night.

We have jobs for many different reasons. Some are saving to go on to college, some to help support their families, some for car payments and other extras. Some hold jobs just to support their social life.

Even though we are busting our butts this year in school, we will look back on it as one of the most memorable times of our lives. -Keri Getchell and Brandy Meaden

Q: What is your dream job? What does it involve?

A: My dream job isn't a job. I want to win one hundred fifty million dollars and doing whatever I want, buying whatever I wanted for myself, family and friends.-Anabela Vasconcelos

A: My dream job is working as an electrical engineer for a large company. Where I'm recognized as a great engineer. I want to have a salary where I can live extremely comfortable and still have some toys. I also want to stay in the New England area, "I love the weather".-Nelson Bairos

School Bells Ring... And Children Sing

On the first day of school, I woke up at 5:30 AM and got ready for school. At 7:00 AM, I walked down the stairs and into the kitchen, where my parents were making coffee and cooking breakfast. I just walked through and said "Bye". My mother asked me if I wanted breakfast but I said, "No, I don't have time". I walked out the door and got into my Chevy Celebrity, started it and drove to Dunkin Donuts to get my coffee. I then drove to school and parked on Clapp Street and walked to the school. I looked on the homeroom list and went to homeroom. I got my school schedule, handbook and my class schedule. I looked to see what classes I had and asked Megan Gallagher, if she had any of my classes, but she wasn't. To me it didn't seem like the first day, probably because this is my fifth year being here. How fun!!! The day was pretty confusing because of the change in the schedule. The day flew by and I hoped the year would fly as fast as the one day.-Olivia Gibson

Q: What did you think of the first day of school?

A: First day of school I thought that next year's summer should be more fun and longer. That first day seemed like a talent show. Everyone dressed to impress.-Danushca Pardo

A: The first day of school I did not like very much! I didn't know where to go, what to do, and I didn't have classes with my close friends. I wasn't with the same homeroom people as last year and there are tons of older, bigger people. Plus, I didn't like how the lunches were. I went home more confused than I came and I didn't enjoy it at all. I was happy when the day was over.-Christina Porter

A ROYAL TIME

Everyone was anxious for the evening of September 26, 1997. We would find out who would be the 1998 Homecoming Queen. To have been nominated for this award is an honor in itself. However, only one lucky girl can receive this honor. This year's homecoming court consisted of five amazing young ladies who have distinguished themselves among their peers. All were equally qualified; each one actively participates in the school government, sports, community service, academics, as well as many other attributes which make them an asset to the class. It was a chilly September evening, and the girls and their escorts awaited half-time by the sideline. In alphabetical order, the nominees were: Yolanda America, escorted by Miguel Vieira; Keri Fredericks, escorted by Christopher Britton; Kimberly Kelliher, escorted by Michael Obelsky; Lea Pascarelli, escorted by Vincent Noe; and Jill Woessner, escorted by Barry Woessner. Finally, the winner was announced, and as the crowd cheered, Homecoming Queen Miss Yolanda America happily accepted the crown. Yolanda represents the ideal candidate for this award: vice president of her class, tri-captain for Varsity Field Hockey, National Honors Society member, and much more. Congratulations, Yolanda! -Jennifer Ozog

Haunted Happenings

At the beginning of October, all of the little children start to prepare for the long awaited spooky night of Halloween. Their parents rush home from work in order to help their children get ready for "trick or treat" night. Searching for their reward of treats, kids of all ages begin their journeys into nearby neighborhoods.

Every year the annual Halloween party is held in the cafeteria of Stoughton High School in order to raise money for the class sponsoring and also to provide a safe and fun environment for all the small children in honor of celebrating Halloween. All the children of Stoughton were welcome and all had a great time participating in activities such as pumpkin painting or choosing a partner for the "Mummy Wrap".

This party has grown to be an anticipated tradition at Stoughton High, made possible by the hard work and dedication of the students. The senior class has run this party for three consecutive years and we will miss preparing for it next year. We hope that next year's seniors carry out this tradition and pass it down for many years to come.-Colleen Hayes

Feeling The Spirit!

Once again it came time to show all of our spirit at Stoughton High. With only one week to prove who has the most spirit, each class joined together with all their ideas and effort.

During spirit week there are events like, black and orange day, sweatshirt day, can drive, and the clothes drive, which the classes compete against each other to gain points. The winners of each event were as follows:

Can Drive: Seniors

Clothes Drive: Seniors

Black and Orange Day: Seniors

College Sweatshirt Day: Seniors

We also showed out school spirit by decorating the walls and the halls of the school. The freshmen, sophomores, and juniors each had their own wall in the gym, while the seniors had their own hall. It was a close call for all the judges but the first place winner were the juniors.

Finally at the end of the week it came time for the rally. We showed our spirit and enthusiasm by shouting and cheering for both our powder puff and football teams. It was a perfect end for our week.-Danushca Pardo and Anabela Vasconcelos

Powderpuff Derby '98

Although the Lady Knights may have lost the battle against their rival Canton, they did play a game never to be forgotten. The back and forth touchdown plays of each team displayed that on any given day victory could be achieved by either team. On a sunny November afternoon, hundreds of fans gathered to watch and cheer on the Lady Knights. With the home field advantage and the enthusiasm of the male cheerleaders, the game was thrilling. After a scoreless first half, Stoughton fought back with aggression to tie the game. Kimberly Kelliher, MVP of the game, scored all of Stoughton's points, including an incredible 82 yard touchdown. During the final moments of the struggle, Canton came back to surpass the Stoughton girls with a score of 22-14. Kimberly Kelliher, Yolanda America and Jennifer Ozog

Knights to Joust 'Dogs

The seventy-one year old Thanksgiving rivalry continued at ten a.m. at Canton High's Memorial Field as the Bulldogs tried to end a two-year winning streak by the Black Knights.

Dating back to 1926, Canton leads the series with thirty-seven wins, thirty losses and four ties, but no matter what the records are prior to the game, anyone can win. The Black Knights' tri-captains Paul McCarthy, Thomas Lucier and Joseph Apotheker enter the game with a 5-4-1 record and it is believed the Black Knights are the second best team in the league behind North Attleboro.

The game featured senior runner Paul McCarthy who has rushed for nearly 1,100 yards. No doubt the opposing defense will focus its attention on this runner. McCarthy has speed, experience and runs for tough yards and is difficult to tackle.

Junior, Neal Houghton has a strong arm and can fire the ball. Receivers are Timothy DeGrande, Donald Rideout and Patrick Martin.

Stoughton's defense is the play of Joseph Apotheker who is MVP of defense.

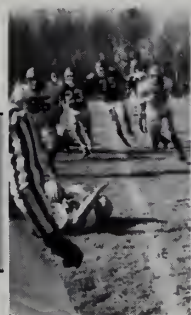

Stoughton's seniors include: Thomas Syrek, Thomas Lucier, Timothy Carroll, Garrett Scannell, Donald Rideout, Timothy DeGrande, Paul McCarthy, Joseph Apotheker, Kevin Layton, Jason Aguiar, Jonathan Spiegel, Matthew Geiger, Randy Shefshick, Robert Ilacqua, Daniel Staples and Shahid Malick.

The seniors were really pumped up for this game as it really meant a lot. They wanted to go out and win and that's exactly what they did. Stoughton's Black Knights beat Canton's Bulldogs 24-14. - Romeo Pombo

Bridges Come Crashing Down

The classes of Mr. Carey and Mrs. Westfield set out to see just how much weight a toothpick bridge could hold. Judging by the sounds of the toothpicks collapsing, there aren't too many future architects among us!

The most commonly used bridge design was by far, the flat, boxy design. But some managed to boggle the mind with their crazy creations. In the end, everyone saw their bridges come crashing down and got to experience the sweetness of success or the agony of defeat.

The only requirements were: using no more than 200 toothpicks, making the bridge at least 18 cm. long, and using a minimal amount of glue.

"Bridge Day" was a complete success and was a great way to get kids to learn and compete in a friendly and fun manner. -Peter Eagles (Right) John Hrenko just keeps piling on the weight. His bridge held more than any other.

Kimberly Kelliher is apprehensive as she tests her bridge, while the class looks on.

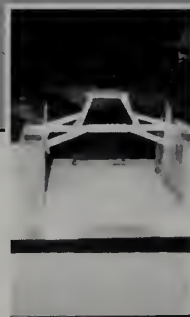

Randy Shefschick is happy he held the minimum weight and can breathe easy for the rest of the day.

Sheri Mezzoff hesitates to put the weight on. She just doesn't want to see it go.

Some people got creative with their bridges. This came from the brain of Matthew Geiger.

(Top) Anthony Morra proves to Mr. Carey that his egg isn't broken.

It's a Bird, It's a Plane, No It's an Egg!

Eggs were floating through the sky left and right. Egg drop day was hosted by Mr. Carey and Mrs. Westfield as a chance to learn, but to get away from the pressures of the classroom environment. The purpose here was to see how high an egg could be dropped from the roof without breaking. Unfortunately, some of us had our eggs scrambled, but we got another chance by dropping the second egg from a higher spot.

There was plenty of creativity shining through here. People suspended their eggs in the middle of a box and some molded them into jello, but the most common design was putting the egg into a box and wrapping it in padding. No matter how many tries it took to pass, everyone enjoyed themselves and egg day was a success for both teachers and students.-Peter Eagles

Winter Wonderland

A winter wonderland is created on Friday night, December 5, 1997. The high school cafeteria is lit up for a magical night of dancing with sparkling stars hanging from the ceiling in blue and white lights. Below the stars on the dance floor the party has begun. Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors are ready with their dancing shoes on.

The cafeteria never looked so good thanks to the student council and senior class. The juniors provided refreshments and manned the snack bar, prepared to deal with all the thirsty dancers. The freshmen and sophomores advertised and sold tickets before the event.

The D.J. plays a few songs to stir up the crowd. As the music starts couples gather on the dance floor. The night was filled with fun and excitement! The announcements of Senior Superlatives, photos, and the annual appearance of the Clauses, many spirited elves and Hanukkah Harry added to the care-free atmosphere. The night was a great success! This is a night that the senior class will not forget.-Kathlyn Vasconcelos and Lisa Santiago.

When and Where

When I was free of the burdens of school and college was thousands of years away.
When everyone was friends,
and the innocence was still there,
When everyone in the world was good,
and I was always hoping for the best.
When my sister looked up to me,
and followed my every step,
When my brother had fun hanging out with me,
and I respected him,
When having my license was just a dream,
and a little plastic car was all I had,
When my boyfriends and girlfriends were only on T.V.,
and heartbreak was years away.
Where did all of this go?
I wish I could go back in time.
And be the real me again!

Senioritis

Throughout the senior year many meaningful memories were made. It has been a year that none of us will forget: Mr. Carey's frustrating physics classes, American Studies II., successful candy fundraisers and food drives. We had hopes of crushing the Lady Bulldogs in Powder Puff and defeating their football team on Thanksgiving Day. The boys dominated and the girls lost a close game. These experiences brought unity and friendship throughout the class.

A strange condition overcame many seniors. For some symptoms began the first day back as seniors and others after they received their college acceptance letters. This peculiar phenomenon has been notoriously known as SENIORITIS. We all know it is highly contagious, ranging from incomplete homework to frequent breakfast outings but we have managed to keep it under control.

On behalf of the senior class we wish the entire population of Stoughton High School the best of luck in their future endeavors. Yolanda America, Kimberly Kelliher, Jennifer Ozog and Tara Sullivan. Carpe Diem!

To the Class of 1998,

We know that this is the end of this four year venture, but we can not throw our high school career out the window. High school is where a child matures into a young adult, and we have done just that: mature. From the time we first stepped into Stoughton High School four years ago up through our walk across the graduation stage, each of my classmates has made progressive maturation.

Soon we will be looking for jobs and starting families of our own, yet we must not forget that we had a second family for four years. The faculty and students of S.H.S. cared for each of us just as our mothers and fathers do and that is why they must always be considered for all the pleasures they have brought us.

Along with the friends made at S.H.S., came many fun times. Who will ever disregard the fact that you took pride in being on a sports team, participated in a club, or became involved with our music department. All of those along with the fun classes you took over four years added up to a great high school career.

In closing, thanks must be given to where it is due. None of the activities could have taken place without our distinguished faculty, including our advisor Ms. Churchill. My fellow class officers must also be thanked for taking care of business over the years. Finally we must not ignore my classmates who made these four years a wonderful experience. And, being your class president, I know that each and every one of you will have the most prosperous future having had S.H.S. as a stepping stone.

Good luck on your future endeavors,

Matthew J. Geiger

To the Class of 1998,

It has been my pleasure to serve you as your adviser for the past year. I have enjoyed getting to know you as individuals in the classroom, and now as a group through our many class activities. The Halloween party, spirit Halls, Powder Puff Cheerleading, Powder Puff Football, and all of the other class activities are memories you will share for the rest of your lives.

Whatever path you choose after graduation, Stoughton High School has given you the foundation upon which a successful and meaningful life can be built. Remember, each one of us has their own special talents. Best of luck to you finding yours. I know the future holds many surprises for everyone. May yours be filled with joy. Wishing you the best of everything!

Fondly,

Ms. Regina Churchill

Times to Remember

So... Junior year is finally coming to an end. The hardest part is over. Soon we'll be driving around in the summer sun with our new licenses. Our senior year ahead of us, and the memories of our junior year behind. We've come so far since we were timid freshman. We finally won spirit walls, even if everything did fall off the wall. The rest of spirit week wasn't too strong, but it's a start. We're just saving it until next year, right? Months of anticipation and planning for our first prom paid off. "These are the times to remember..." It's great to see that we're finally coming together as a class. We can all look forward to an exciting and successful senior year.-Jenna Obelsky

We've Got The Spirit!

The Class of 2000 has been very busy this year with all the fundraisers and activities planned.

In November it was time for Spirit week and our theme was Disney this year. We decorated the wall by using lots of paper, paint, markers and different art supplies. Decorating night held a festive air and was filled with fun, friends and pizza!

The Winter Dance was held in December, a most spectacular time was had by those who attended. The decorations were spectacular and the cafe was transformed into a winter wonderland complete with stars.

The final class activity will be to hand out programs at both Class Night and Graduation. Our Sophomore year has been very busy, filled with many decisions and memorable experiences.

The Great Adventure!!

The ninth grade. New school, new teachers, picking your own classes. It may have been a little overwhelming at first, but the freshman class made it through their first year and came out on the other side just a little bit more prepared for the rest of their lives. With all the new experiences and interesting things floating around it might have been easy for us to get off track. That didn't matter though, because we had good friends and good teachers to help us through our first year. With one down and three to go the class of 2001 has a solid footing on the way to graduation.

This year our class accomplished a lot including a great spirit wall, contributions to the winter dance, and a helpful fundraiser. Besides the work of the class officers: Jerome Fallon, President; Charmaine Steele, Vice-President; Faith Arsenault, Secretary; Nicole Roy, Treasurer; and our adviser Mr. C. Several students donated their time toward helping the class achieve its goals for freshman year. Our first year was both productive and enjoyable.

For you...

This year, Yearbook went from being an extra-curricular activity to a class. Every day students worked hard on making this yearbook the best. More time and effort was put into the 1998 yearbook than in any past yearbook.

Through the confusion of making yearbook a class we still managed to make it a lot of fun. To the students we want you to know that we did our best in putting the year, 1998, into words. We hope you carry this with you through the years and you think of only happy memories when looking back. We enjoyed making this book for you and we hope you think it's as good as we do. We hope you have as much fun looking through this book as we did making it for you. To the seniors, we wish you the best of luck in the future and hope you enjoyed your years at Stoughton High School.-The Yearbook Staff (Emily Banis)

So... how is it? The book, I mean. With so many ruffled feathers and bad rumors I know most people thought this was going to be a horrid book.

"NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER OF YOUR PRESENCE-

Rabbi Kosman

(the reader) are about half way through. So I ask again, how is it? I, personally, am very proud of it. All our most important memories, events, and moments neatly bound in one beautifully covered book(thanks to Erika).

And the theme ties it all together. This year's theme 'dreams' has a great deal of meaning. I know what your thinking, "It's just a stupid yearbook. Who cares about the theme!?" Right? Let me explain:

Everyone (especially high school students) have dreams. No, not the things you get in REM sleep. I mean the goals you set yourself, your aspiration. Everyone has at least one, even if you don't recognize it. Think a little. Did you think the goals you set yourself throughout high school? It could be as extreme as "I want to graduate 'cum lauda'." (just for you Mr. Nalibow) to something as simple as "I just want to pass this history class." (So did I, Mr. Keppel? Did I, did I? If you didn't quite reach your goals, all is not lost. A lot is learned from failure.

Whatever you do, don't give up on it or you become as lost as you believed your dream was. Keep chasing that dream or even lay chase to a new one.

All this may not make sense to you now, my fellow students, but maybe in twelve or thirty years you'll look back at your 1998 Stotonian and flip one editors' page. What were the ramblings of a lunatic student sitting in ISS who made sense and something will 'click'. You'll look up at the sky, thinking you were the first person to live on the moon and somewhere on the moon I'll be looking down and thinking of all of you.

I began working on the Stotonian Yearbook staff as a Sophomore, and I learned skills for a lifetime. During production, my existence didn't appear crucial. However, when looking back at the past finished product, it feels great to know that I had been a part of the success. My hard work has certainly paid off for me to be fortunate enough to have my own editorial section. I gratefully wish to thank Mrs. Pappas for all her encouragement, support and humor. To my family, thank you for everything. I love you forever; Mom, Dad, Gary, Grandma, Zadie and Bubie. To my friends, thank you for your effect on me, one way or another. To help you through this thing called "LIFE", I've dug up a few tips of advice. Do with them what you may.

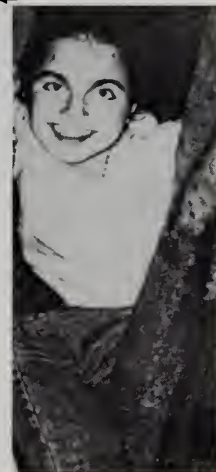

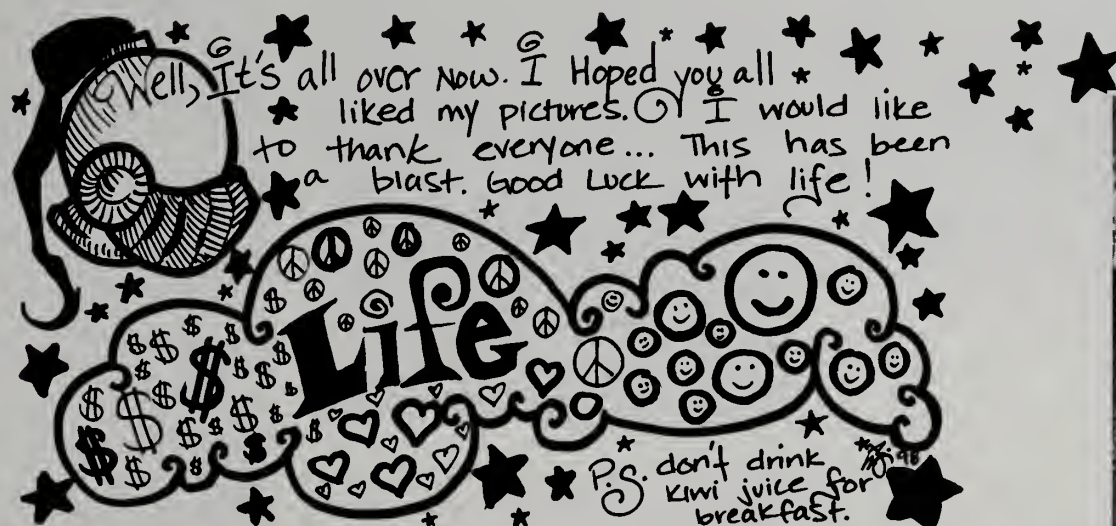

"IF YOU CAN IMAGINE IT, YOU CAN ACHIEVE IT. IF YOU CAN DREAM IT, YOU CAN BECOME IT!"

"REWARD IS, AND SHOULD BE RELATED TO EFFORT."

"SOME SUCCEED BECAUSE THEY ARE DESTINED TO, MOST BECAUSE THEY ARE DETERMINED TO."

"THE ONLY PERSON WHO NEVER MAKES A MISTAKE, IS THE PERSON WHO NEVER DOES ANYTHING"

"SOMETIMES YOU'RE THE BUG, SOMETIMES YOU'RE THE WINDSHIELD"

There was music in the air!

This year, the Marching Band and Color Guard began the season with a week-long band camp in August. They learned their field show, "Tommy", during camp and twice-weekly rehearsals through the fall. "Tommy" is a rock opera by "The Who" and the songs played included the "Tommy Overture", "Pinball Wizard", and "See me, Hear Me". The songs were conducted by Drum Majors Katie Schmidt and Patricia Vasconcelos. The Color Guard was led by captains Cathryn Piaseczny and Suzanne Tremblay.

The band's director Mr. Ronald Christianson, and hard-working staff brought the band to competitions where the group won first place in their division with a Silver Medal. The band also performed at all of the home football games and marched in the Stoughton and Brockton Veterans Day and Holiday Parades. The season wound down finally at the annual band banquet at the Stoughton V.F.W. on November 28, 1997.

The season was successful for all involved, and there are many strong players returning next season. Those returning will miss this year's seniors, not only for their experience, but also their leadership and dedication. The seniors wish the band and color guard continued success next season and always.- Sarah Klim

A Smashing Success!

On Saturday, November 22, 1997, the annual dinner theatre preformed to a sell-out crowd. Twenty-one acts, games and the final dress rehearsal were featured, along with a delicious lasagna dinner which was catered by Denenno's.

The final dress rehearsal portrays a rehearsal of a high school production of Cinderella. Disaster after disaster occurs. Performers fought lines, actors walked through walls and the playwright is a lunatic.

Games takes place at the fifteenth high school reunion of the four leading characters. The women reminisce about the "good old days", while a crowd of children act out what really took place.

Goal!!!

The 1997-1998 boys varsity soccer team had a tough but good season this fall. Coach, Michael Stuber once again headed up the team with his tiring practices and constant guidance. Only this year, sadly, the team didn't become the Hockomock League champions again. But their effort was strong and consistent. All in all the season was a success even though they didn't go as far as they would have liked. They grew as a team and each player grew individually. They always showed a real physical battle for the home fans.

High Kickers

The girls varsity soccer team was off to a great season. After coming back from tying one game last year they managed to almost make the tournament. With a new head coach, Henry Snitzberg, the team had to adjust to his type of standards. Captains, Kathleen Maltby, Jillian Rotondo and Kerry Wardrop led the direction and standard for the team. The soccer team is working hard during the off season to make a stronger comeback next year.

1,2,3 WOOSH!!

This year's season was phenomenal! Yolanda America, Denise Benvenuto, and Keri Fredericks began the season with Captain's practices in late August. By September, the girls were ready for a tough season. Unfortunately, it was several games before they really started playing like a team. Once it happened, they took off on a winning streak, giving the best teams in the league a tough match. Even Mansfield, Hockomock League Champs, could only manage a tie against the mighty Stoughton girls. The girls' main goal was to make the State Tournament. Only one additional point was needed at the final game versus King Philip. Stoughton's victory was superb, beating King Philip 3-0 and guaranteeing their entrance into the State Tournament. The first game of the tournament was against Franklin, and the girls played one of the best games of their lives. The game was tied until the last twenty seconds, when a Franklin forward sneaked in a goal. The final score was 2-1, Franklin. Many tears were shed at the conclusion of that game. Nevertheless, the girls were extremely proud of their overall performance during the season. The field hockey team had been the only Stoughton High fall sport team to make it into the State Tournament, and everyone was honored. Yolanda America and Jennifer Ozog

Great Talents and Contributions

With great talents and contributions to the football team, Thomas Syrek, Michael Horan, Matthew Hurtig, Patrick Martin, James Pascarelli and others, make a great effort to play their best and give Stoughton High School a great name.

Thomas Syrek, senior, said "I love the excitement of high school level football and always wanted to play on the team." Patrick Martin, junior added, "I've been playing my whole life."

Some of the senior football players share and trade a little of their fun with the girls in a game of Powder Puff Football, where the players get a touch of cheerleading and the girls get a touch of being rough in a competitive game of football.

Even though the football players are doing well and working their hardest, players on the team still think things need to be improved. Along with the hard discipline, strong coaching, and dedicated effort, support from parents is also important. Some of the players have future plans to play football, but for now, they are having fun and doing the best they can. -Marlene Soares and Inna Goldstein

A Building Year

In the field of athletics, two of the most important things necessary for success lie deep within a person: determination and desire. The Stoughton High Cross Country team has overcome lack of participation and blistering competition to improve both as individuals and a team, thanks to hard yet beneficial practice.

Every day after school and most Saturday mornings, the team meets on the high school track to warm up, stretch, and then run various workouts, whether it be sprints on the track or a seven mile run, under the eye of first year coach Ivory Carson. Despite his past experience Coach Carson still finds room to learn along with his team and gain coaching knowledge. So it's been "team building", using the knowledge of the team to learn myself. Cross country has been a difficult yet rewarding, challenge, especially the challenge of taking the physical aspect of the sport and making it more psychological.

The body of runners on the cross country team has been capably led by the team's lone senior, Captain Joshua Schultz. He welcomes his role as leader and hopes his influence will encourage the younger runners on the team.-Jared Savas

Working Hard

When your team is in the rebuilding stages, it does not help if you seem to be competing against the best teams. That's the way it has gone this season for the girls' cross country team.

"The girls went out and gave it their best effort against tough teams," said coach Tosca. "The big thing is that they've improved as the season has progressed.

Of course it is hard to notice any improvement when you do not see any wins on the team record, but you have to look beyond the numbers. After all, it is exceptionally difficult to go from virtually nothing two seasons ago to being able to compete against teams who can finish first through fifth in a race. That is the most important thing to remember throughout this year. Two years ago the Stoughton girls' cross country team was made up of four girls and could not complete against anyone. The team is definitely getting better.

Pool Time!!

The season started without a coach, until Sandy Johnson took the job. The team's members were somewhat reduced, but the Knights still had a respectable squad remaining. Each member swam several events, but each had his particularly strong event. The squad included captain Kenneth Ernst (breaststroke), captain Joshua Schultz (200 individual medley), Christopher Peterson (backstroke), Matthew Barry (butterfly), Reid Kimball (diving), Jonathan Bettencourt (breaststroke), David Ryman (breaststroke), Jamal Toure (backstroke), Aaron Hefez (200 Freestyle), Steven Ernst (50 freestyle) and Eric Golden (backstroke). Highlights included the performance in the backstroke relay at the Conference Relays by the team of Hefez, Peterson, Schultz, and Toure, Stoughton's wins over North Quincy and BMC, Durfee, and Reid Kimball's diving victory at the narrowly missed Milford meet. This team has a lot of young talent, and should become a leader in the tough Southern Conference. -Jennifer Ozog and Yolanda America.

One Fish, Two Fish, Orange Fish, Black Fish !!

The girls swimming and diving team had an outstanding season this year. During the fall months, many new friendships were formed and old ones strengthened. We went out for weekly Papa Gino's pizza bonding nights, and even crammed in cars for a Saturday Boston outing one weekend. Led by coach Christopher Brady and senior tri-captains Bonnie Johnston, Julieanne Parolin and Jennifer Ozog, the team accomplished many exceptional results. Beginning the season with a victory over Brockton, the girls knew that they had the potential to win against Randolph, when the result depended on the very last relay's performance. Stoughton prevailed, with a final score of 95-91! Even when we lost a meet, we never hung our heads, because there were many other reasons to be proud. Every meet, despite the final score, Stoughton girls were striving for and achieving personal best times. Lindsay Benvenuto, a sophomore diver, and Heather Mills, a freshman breast stroker, both represented the team in the MIAA South Sectional Championships. No one can deny that coach Brady pushed us to our limits at practice, but our achievements proved to be remarkable this year. Jennifer Ozog and Yolanda America.

ON THE TEE

The Black Knight Golf Team fell just short of qualifying for the State Golf Tournament this year, with a final record of 2-11-3.

The team was led by Captain, Lee Schneider, playing the number one position, followed by Jay Rodriguez in the number two spot. Daniel Quigley and Timothy Briere provided the Knights with strong play in the numbers three and four positions. Junior Matthew Olem, who will be leading the team next year, helped out with solid play in the number five position. The number six position was filled by a rotating group of players, including Matthew Bown, Andrew Hudson, and Ronald "Grimey" Grimes.

Coach Paul Jacobs was pleased with the effort of all the players, and feels the team will go through a re-building year next season, with four of the six starters graduating this year. ## Courage, Pride, Determination, Strength

Thanks to Senior Captains, Erika Bettencourt and Sherrie Nankin, the Stoughton High Gymnastics season was one that we'll never forget. Despite a 0-12 record in the tough Hockomock League and plague of injuries, this young team's growth and progress from meet to meet was amazing, and the team finally broke the 100 point mark in their second to last meet against North Attleboro.

Throughout the season, the seniors supplied depth and stability to the team. Leah Sinrich and Courtney Maysles were outstanding on the beam and floor. Sherrie Nankin provided strong scores all season on the floor, vault, and bars, and Karyn Ellis performed beautifully on beam. Erika Bettencourt's agility and flexibility were essential to beam and floor.

Other top performances were turned in by Juniors, Emily Banis and Kimberly Huppe on vault, bars, and floor.

The hard work of the underclassmen helped bring the season to a successful conclusion. Sophomores, Alison Last, Caroline Smith, and Megan Sullivan were key players on the team, and Kellie Moore provided support and inspiration for the entire team. Lindsay Benvenuto showed a great deal of promise before suffering a season ending injury. The team will continue to build with the strong performances of Freshmen, Kendra Bucaria, Amy Hallamore, Melanie Fernandes, Amanda Siegel, and Jennifer Wilson.-Kimberly Huppe

ACHIEVERS

The Stoughton boys varsity basketball squad qualified for the state tournament for the first time in a few years. Behind the leadership of captain Daniel Baker the team has united after playing with each other for many years. Stoughton will be losing seven players due to graduation but will still be in the hunt for years to come. In addition to Baker the varsity team will lose Mark Conopka, Randy Shefshick, Paul Reid, Neil Rebelo, Brian Feely, and James Haynes. Neil Houghton, Mark Liston, Paul Zapustas, Matthew Hurtig, and Keith Motley will be in contention for a state title next year. The team has shown great excitement and hustle during the season. They have played against high competition and have succeeded. This was one of the best teams Stoughton has had and all the credit is to Coach John Douglas and his supporting staff, Coach Cotter, and Jamie McGarry.-Paul Zapustas, Erin Bernstein, Caryn Shulman

DREAMERS

Stoughton girls varsity basketball team opened their season to Easton's Oliver Ames team. Despite their loss, their endless effort and determination kept them in the game. The 1998 Lady Knights are on their way to victory. Last year everyone had said that it was a rebuilding season. That's when the record was 0-18 which had never happened in Black Knight history. Then this year after working hard to produce a team with enough heart and desire to be a winning team has shocked everyone. Not only have the Black Knights won their game but they also fought hard for a spot in the tournament against Canton. Even though they had let the game slip out of there hands, they managed to hang in as a team. Many teams after losing most games like the Lady Knights experienced would usually begin to fall apart. But at the beginning of the season the team noticed a special bond that brought them together and that bond could not be broken. There is a saying that the Lady Knights go by "You win as a team, you lose as a team." -Caryn Shulman, Erin Bernstein

The Icemen Cometh

Under the leadership of the twelve seniors, this year's varsity ice hockey squad was one of the best in recent memory. The knights began their season at a mark of 3-4, but made a late season run to finish at 13-6-1, including a mid-season dogfight with Canton resulting in an impressive 2-1 victory. Ending the season with such a stellar record earned the team respect and a first place seed in the Division 2 state tournament.

Despite avoiding the first round, the Knights season was cut short by a 5-3 loss to Duxbury. Although the team did not fulfill all its goals, they had a great year, which was filled with great memories. - Peter Eagles

Stoughton Grapplers Hit the Mats

This season was a fairly successful one for the wrestlers of Stoughton High School. They finished at 9-12, but their record does not show the talent and potential the team had this year. Highlighting the team's season was a win over Hockomock League powerhouse, Canton. Seeking revenge for a tie last year, the team fought hard and came away with an impressive victory over their arch rivals.

On an individual level, the team possessed great amounts of talent. Michael Horan, who set the record for freshman wins, Shahid Malick, who finished 15-1 in the league and placed fifth in the states, and Timothy Carroll, who finished 25-4 overall with a first place finish in sectionals and a second place finish in the states, were among the shining stars this season. Both Shahid and Timothy qualified for nationals. Although the seniors, who were so successful this season, won't be returning, the team should be able to hold their own next year and follow in the footsteps of their leaders.-Peter Eagles

Growing and Building!!

The boys indoor track team had a disappointing season, winning one and dropping seven. It is a small step up from last season, when they lost them all. Still, first year coach Ivory Carson has got to be upset. "It is still just a numbers problem," Carson said. "I don't even have enough people to run J.V., and most teams have a whole bunch of people running J.V."

Despite problems, five team members, Lance Teixeira, Charles Cooper, Jason Aguiar, John Hrenko, and Jared Savas, qualified to run at the Massachusetts State Track Coaches' Association meet in Boston, the qualifiers for the state tournament.-Benjamin Nankin

Get Set Go!!!

The girls indoor track team improved dramatically this season. they finished at 4-4, their best record since the '94 season. "Last year we were 1-7, so I think most of the team was pretty happy with (this season)," said coach Todd Elwell. "We continue to take little steps up the ladder."

Despite losing their last two meets, the girls scored over twice last years point total. They showed their ability at its height by defeating state power North Attleboro by four points. "...We didn't think we'd have a shot against North Attleboro," said coach Elwell.- Benjamin Nankin

Cheerleaders go to nationals....

Last summer in '97 the varsity cheerleaders attended a summer camp directed by Cheer Limited and Dance. They all worked their hardest to show the directors how much they had improved and that they deserved a once in a lifetime chance to go to Myrtle Beach. They worked so hard and all their work finally paid off. They also had to raise an incredible 10,000 dollars to go to the National competition. They did it by holding a pancake breakfast, spaghetti dinner, Valentine's day dance and with much support from the town and nearby businesses they were able to raise all the money. They left on Thursday morning March 19 and returned on Monday night March 23. Their long awaited dreams had finally come true. During the year the girls competed in five other competitions. They took home two third places and an amazing first place trophy from the Canton competition. They were happy that the school supported them more this year. With six freshmen the team had to work hard to teach them all the new cheers and dances before the fall season began. With much hard work and dedication this team showed a lot of teamwork and sportsmanship-Jill Mallen.

DEDICATION

It is customary to dedicate the yearbook to the one person who has been the most influential to the graduating class. The Class of 1999 would like to dedicate this book to Mr. Edward Cabral, a member of the Math Department who has helped us along the way.

1963 - 1998

The Class of 1998 was deeply saddened by the February 22nd, 1998 death of one of its most beloved and talented classmates, Justin McNamara. His contributions to the lives of his classmates were many and shall never be forgotten. Mrs. Dawe spoke for the class when she wrote:

FOR JUSTIN

By Mrs. Kathryn Dawe

We will remember the poet in you.
How the words formed like arrows piercing at the truth or like soft petals scattered at our feet.
We had to feel those emotions
so vivid in color, so strong in thought.

But creation stopped too soon and now your voice is silenced.
Unfinished lines hang loose like broken threads waiting to be woven into the heart-minded fabric.

You, the writer, gave us no choice.
We who remain
must bravely finish
those poems of life's vibrant quilt without you, for you.

1995: HERKIMER, N.Y.

In May of 1995, a group from the Class of 1998 and a few upperclassmen traveled to Herkimer, New York for the annual "Diamond Hunt". Mr. Paul Monti headed this adventure. Starting at dawn the students climbed onto two busses and traveled to rural New York. Searching for hours trying to find the elusive "Herkimerian Diamond". Crawling back on the buses just before sunset some had bucks of diamond-stone, some had but one star-like diamond. On the way home Mr. Monti was generous enough to pay for the students' dinner at Burger King. All-in-all it was a memorable experience for those who attended. -Kendall DeBassio

SHOW YOUR STUFF!

1998 Talent Show

On Friday, March 13, after rescheduling due to snow, the annual Stoughton High School talent show finally went on, giving students the opportunity to showcase their talents. Members of the student body turned out for the show, both to entertain and to be entertained. M.C.'ed by Jill Woessner and Nicole Yong, members of Student Council, there were a variety of acts ranging from vocal performances to a martial arts exhibition. Some groups lip-synched, while there were others that we wish had. The highlights of the night included a performance by the Rebels, featuring John Fanning, Brad Wolfe, Larry Harmon, Brian Feely, Vinnie Noe, and Jay Rodriguez, in their second consecutive appearance, two vocal solos by Ashley Souza, and the karate stylings of Washington Santos and Bobby Gallagher. In all it was an interesting evening, with some acts whose talents were apparent and others that left a bit to the imagination, but we'll wait to see what happens next year. -Bonnie Johnston, Raegan Avidon, Lisa Camara, Shauna Poirier, Katie Callahan.

The World Travelers

HOLA!! BONJOUR!! After our early morning arrival in Paris everyone was exhausted. This was probably because in the U.S. it was now about two in the morning. But, to Parisians it was eight a.m., and we had a whole day ahead of us! We arrived at our hotel right outside the Arc de Triomphe and loaded all forty-two peoples' luggage into a room the size of a closet. We began our sightseeing of "the city of lights" at the Musee de Orsay, the impressionism part of the Louvre. That night we had a boat ride on the Seine River (unfortunately after being up for 48 hours it put us all to sleep). Throughout our time in Paris we saw many of the world's most beautiful sights including: the Eiffel Tower, Louvre Museum, Notre Dame and Versailles. We spent a day in the magnificent Loire Valley; here we saw many castles. We toured two castles dating back to medieval times. These castles were called Chennececu and Chambord, inside we got a chance to see what castles looked like in their heyday.

The next stop on our trip was Madrid but not after a twelve hour train ride. We arrived in Madrid and were welcomed into a much nicer hotel than the one we had just left. We were right down the street from the Puerta de Sol (sun gate). Our travels through Spain began at the Prado. Here we saw many very famous paintings such as Las Meninas. We continued on our tour by going to the Royal Palace and who could forget the Hard Rock Café. We went to a Flamenco Show where we got a chance to see some of the Spanish culture. Throughout the week we went to El Escorial, Valley of the Fallen, Segovia and Toledo. But before leaving we danced the night away at one of Spain's famous discos. Then it was adios, and back to the United States. The week went by much too quickly but I'm sure it was an experience that will be kept alive in our hearts.- Emily Banis

Game, Set, Match!

The Boys Tennis team completed another season under the direction of coach Christopher Young. This year, the team completed the season with a final record of 3-13, yet this record does not do justice to the effort each team member put into practices and matches.

The team was led by senior tri-captain Michael Obelsky, playing the first singles position. Playing the second singles position was senior tri-captain Ariel Cretu, followed by a mix of third singles players, including senior Edward Kim and senior Jason Gretskey. The first doubles team of senior tri-captain Lee Schneider and sophomore Scott Levine came together in the middle of the season, competing very competitively in the final half of the season. The dynamic duo of senior Matthew Abrams and junior Matthew "Hastings" Abrams, who received the team's Most Valuable Player award, led the team in wins, playing the second doubles position. The season was filled with hard work, dedication, and fun, all of which will pay off in seasons to come. -Lee Schneider

Get Into the Swing of Things

The girls tennis team began the 1998 season with yet another outstanding new coach. From the beginning, Coach Connor set out to enlighten us with high initiative that helped achieve unity among the team members. Running before practice gave us the extra endurance that we would need to win those tedious rallies. Although that week of El Niño weather might have soaked our tennis courts, it did not dampen our spirits a bit. Many times, the girls would have to play into third sets and even tie breakers against tough opponents. Melissa Nankin added pride to the team's reputation with her two-in-a-row victory. With the help of weekly team pizza nights, the girls tennis team bonded and became friends as well as teammates.
